1928

In 1928 Targetti begins in the heart of Florence's historical center. It is a little artisan shop, selling lamps and related goods. In the late 1930s Targetti starts producing chandeliers. The dimensions of the firm grow quickly and it becomes a fully integrated industry equipped with modern machineries and specialized technicians. Today the company produces and markets over 3000 lighting fixtures and systems which are the perfect synthesis of function and design. Technically advanced lighting fixtures backed by top level research meet with the pure shapes and essential lines of consistently up-to-date designs, suitable for any architectural context.

In 1874 Ludvig R. Poulsen sets up a wine importing business. As Denmark's second power station opens in central Copenhagen, Ludvig R. Poulsen opens his second business, this time selling tools and electrical supplies. In the mid-1920s the beginning of the cooperation with legendary architect Poul Henningsen marks the start of Louis Poulsen history in the field of lighting. For more than eighty years, Louis Poulsen has collaborated with visionary architects and designers to produce innovative lighting solutions and many of its products have already become "works of art or classics" not only due to their design, but also due to their unique, unusual, distinctive and exceptional light control.
